DAILY PAPERS AND LETTERS ON SUNDAY

Postmaster Winn informs the News that he has secured the necessary authority from the postoffice department to distribute the daily papers and letters in the boxes on Sunday. This will be a great convenience to the public and will not add to the burden of the clerks in the office, who must be there any way to handle outgoing mail. Under the new rule the office was buried under a weight of mail on Sunday that kept the entire force on the jump all day Monday.

DEATH OF SETH K. CORDON.

Muskogee, Sept. 18.—Seth K. Cordon, well known in Muskogee and a Democratic politician with friends all over the state, died at his home in Gore, Okla., Saturday night, the result of a dose of morphine administered for insomnia. The drug was too strong for a weak heart and Corded without awakening. The body was buried at Gore Sunday afternoon and a number of Muskogee friends were at the funeral.

Cordon formerly lived at Redlands, spent much of his time in Muskogee just prior to statehood and following that event. He was manager of ex-Governor Haskell's campaign when he ran for governor and was connected with the New State Tribune. In 1910 he was candidate for the nomination as member of the state corporation commission and was defeated. He was a member of the state election board for a period and during the recent campaign was a candidate for state senator in his district and was defeated on the face of the returns by a small majority and was contesting the election.

Interested in farm lands, he and his family owning several allotments. Cordon spent part of his time looking after the farms, but he never lost his hold on politics and public affairs, and at the time of his death was publishing a newspaper of his own, the Sentinel, and had just moved the plant from Gore to Sallisaw.

Mr. Cordon leaves a wife and three children who live at Gore. There was probably no man in the state who had more personal friends. From Fort Smith to Guyton he was known as the good fellow who was better to his friends than to himself.

GRAND JURY TAKES UP NEW SNEED CLUE

Amarillo, Texas, Sept. 17.—That another person aside from J. B. Sneed is connected with the killing of Al G. Boyce here Saturday developed at the special session of the Potter county grand jury, which is investigating the death of Boyce. The identity of the person, who disappeared, no description obtained, furnished the principal topic in the discussion of the second killing in connection with the Sneed case as the result of the elopement last fall of Mrs. J. B. Sneed with Boyce.

It is considered almost certain that Sneed will be taken to Fort Worth to stand trial on the charge of killing Captain Al G. Boyce, father of the man killed Saturday. This trial is set for November.

The grand jury in session failed to complete its investigation after examining 30 witnesses.

While the jury was in session the funeral of Boyce took place. The procession passed within a block of the jail in which Sneed is confined.

Another version of the motive that prompted Sneed to kill Al Boyce Saturday was a letter from Boyce to Sneed's young wife, which the husband intercepted. The letter proposed another elopement. Sneed's counsel affirmed this and declared that Boyce had tried to win Mrs. Sneed back again.

GREEN BUGS STOP RAILROAD TRAINS IN TEXAS

Fort Worth, Texas, Sept. 17.—Triangular green bugs, green bugs of diminutive size, large green bugs with an evil smell, small black bugs and crickets were in this city last night in myriads. But the trouble and annoyance they caused here was nothing to the condition they produced at Childress 220 miles north of here, on the Denver, according to a report of Superintendent Maer. Similar bugs, on their way from Colorado and Kansas, southward bound, were there in such profusion they actually stopped the railway trains, the wheels refusing to take the track. The report says that the services of three men with shovels and wheelbarrows were required for two hours Sunday morning to clear the depot platform. The bugs were drawn by the lights of the station, and were piled several inches deep all over the platform. Switch engines were unable to work for several hours during the early part of the night and business was suspended in the city. The bugs were to be seen along the tracks in great piles and only by a plentiful use of sand could the trains be moved at all. The crushed bugs on the rails made them so slippery the trains could not be moved.

VITAL STATISTICS FOR THE MONTH OF JULY

Oklahoma City, Sept. 17.—Report of vital statistics for the month of July contained in the health department bulletin of Sept. 1, shows that of the 772 deaths ten were accidental drownings, six suicides and one legal hanging. The legal hanging was in Tulsa county, an occurred early in 1911; however, the certificate did not reach the State Health Commissioner's office until August of this year. This was the first and only legal execution that has taken place during the administration of Governor Cruce, and was that of a negro who killed an officer.

Children under 6 years of age furnished 37 per cent of the total deaths, due, the department says, to infantile disorders so prevalent during summer months. Of the births during August, 1,333 were males, 1,160 females; 2,264 were white and 92 black.

Among the contagious diseases diphtheria furnished 11 cases with no deaths, scarlet fever, 17 cases and one death. Small-pox eight cases, and no deaths; typhoid fever, 308 cases and 44 deaths; tuberculosis 102 cases and 61 deaths, and pneumonia 34 cases with 28 deaths.

Some Age to Old Boston Town.

Boston, Sept. 17.—Two hundred and eighty-two years old and a National or American League championship pennant, counting the flag already in sight of McAleer's team at Red Sox, for every 22 years of her career. This calculation by an enthusiastic baseball fan, and the hoisting of a flag on the city hall, marked the only observance of Boston's 282nd birthday anniversary today.

While it was in July, 1630, that the colonists brought by John Winthrop to Salem established themselves at Charlestown, it was not until September 17, of that year, when the greater part of Winthrop's company moved to Trimontaine. Then the place was renamed Boston, after the Lincolnshire town, from which many of the colonists had come.

New York Federation of Labor.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Sept. 17.—Delegates representing labor bodies throughout the state were present in large numbers this morning at the opening of the 49th annual convention of the New York State Federation of Labor. Legislative measures affecting the interests of the working class will be exhaustively discussed by the convention.

STRAY TOPICS FROM LITTLE OLD NEW YORK

New York, Sept. 17.—The vice-trust investigation conducted in New York City by the district attorney is slowly progressing and, although the trust and its confederates in the police department are making the most desperate efforts to obstruct the work of the investigators, a tremendous amount of the most offensively malodorous evidence has been dug up by the detectives employed by the district attorney. One thing has become evidently apparent, that the vice trust is well organized and that the ramifications of its influence reach far beyond the police department. The situation is appalling in the extreme and the citizens are awaiting the result of the investigation with intense interest.

For the second time within a few weeks a prisoner confined in the Tombs made his escape. A few weeks ago George Witson, a dangerous house-breaker, made his escape after he had knocked down a guard and taken away the man's gun. The man who escaped the other day was Reynolds Fosbury, a murderer, who availed himself of a convenient ventilator shaft to regain his freedom. After Witson's escape an investigation was made and the experts entrusted with the investigation stated that the changes ordered by them would make any further escapes impossible, as all weak spots had been eliminated. Evidently they overlooked one weak spot, which Fosbury with more acumen, did not overlook. Now another investigation is being made and there seems to be evidence that the weakest spot in the Tombs is the neglect of duty by certain of the officials and employees and a general shake-up is expected in the near future.

New Directory for Manhattan.
The new directory for Manhattan and the Bronx has been issued. It contains 568,815 names. The increase would indicate that the boroughs of Manhattan and The Bronx contain a residential and business population of approximately 3,000,000 people. These figures do not include the population of the other boroughs which, together with Manhattan and the Bronx, constitute Greater New York.

Odd Angle of Liability Law.
An odd angle of the Jersey employers' liability law came out at the recent filing of a suit in the New York Supreme Court by Hugh Wilson, formerly the chauffeur of Clinton S. Martin, a wealthy resident of Ridgewood, N. J. In his complaint Wilson asserted that while clearing his employer's machine he caught his hand in the motor and lacerated several of his fingers. On learning of his mishap, Mr. Martin, according to the story, brought his chauffeur some preparation to apply to his wound. As a result of the application Wilson's wound became worse, permanently affecting and deforming his hand. Wilson demands damages to the amount of $10,000. In the complaint a complete copy of the New Jersey law is cited as substance for the plaintiff's stand in holding his employer liable for the ill effect of the medicine offered in a spirit of kindness.

When Not "Necessarily Dead."
By a decision handed down the other day, Surrogate Fowler established as a precedent that a person who disappeared forty years ago and has never been seen or heard of since, should not necessarily be deemed legally dead. The decision was made in the case in which the accounting for an estate was involved. In 1863 two sisters, Bridget and Ann Shannon, came to this country from Ireland. The year following her arrival, Bridget took a situation in Belleville, Pa., with a Dr. Ward. She remained there for ten years, and then, one day, without removing any of her personal effects, she suddenly disappeared and has never been heard of since. Last year her sister, Ann Shannon, died, leaving an estate of nearly $15,000. By her will her fortune was to be equally divided among her next of kin. The executrix appointed for the estate neglected to make an allowance for the missing sister of the testatrix, and for that reason the surrogate refused to confirm the accounting.

A Girl's Devotion to Her Father.
A girl's devotion to her father was demonstrated the other day, when Miss Rachel Sayre, a refined and well educated girl, sailed from this port as a stowaway on a steamer bound for Porto Rico. Her father, a mining engineer, employed in Porto Rico, had contracted a fever, and the thought of her father being sick in a strange country, and without proper nursing and attention, greatly worried the girl. She wished to hasten to her father's bedside, but the family purse was empty. After brooding a few days over the situation, the girl, without letting her mother into her plans, left the house one morning, went on board a steamer bound for Porto Rico and secreted herself. Her presence on board was not discovered until the steamer was well under way and then a wireless message was sent to the mother of the girl to relieve her anxiety. The brave girl will undoubtedly be able to reach her sick father.

Soldier Masquerades as a Girl.
Fred Bersing, a private on leave from the U. S. Artillery Corps, at Ft. Totten, and a few of his comrades, craving for some new excitement, decided to have a little masquerade. Bersing, who has a smooth face and rosy cheeks, was dressed up as a woman, and the party proceeded to North Beach, L. I., for a gay time. At one of the dance halls, a girl, more observant than the others, penetrated the disguise of the young soldier boy, and set up a yell that attracted general attention. After she had explained that the girl sitting at the same table with her was a man, there was great indignation and the whole crowd jumped on the soldier. Had it not been for the timely arrival of a policeman, the young man would have been severely dealt with. He was arrested and fined $10.

A thrilling story founded on facts is "The Girl at the Cupola," which will be shown at the Majestic this evening. Elopement in an aeroplane is the latest and most successful method of eluding watchful papas, and a case of this kind will be shown in "An Aeroplane Love Affair," another good picture.

The News has been given a list of the checks given on the reunion fund and it will be published in tomorrow's paper. The report shows a total of $826.25 collected and expenditures of $537.69, leaving a balance of $288.56, from which it is barely possible that a few small items may yet come in for payment. The report shows that the fund was handled remarkably well and the committee certainly deserves credit.

More than 100 witnesses have been summoned. County Attorney Lefler is being assisted by County Attorney Mathews, of Carter county.

WOULD EXTEND AID TO WEAK SCHOOLS

Oklahoma City, Sept. 16.—Capital removal will not be the only question submitted to voters at the fall election. The third legislature, by house joint resolution, submitted as a constitutional amendment, a section to insure schools at least five months' session annually. It reads: "Sec. 31. The Legislature shall have the power to levy taxes in the aid of the common schools of the state and to provide for the apportionment and distribution thereof. Whenever the amount realized from a five-mill ad valorem levy, and all other sources, shall be insufficient to maintain the common schools in any district five months in any year, the remaining sum necessary to maintain such schools shall be apportioned and paid out out of such State levy."

See Us Before You Buy Your Coal.

Remember that we only handle the highest grades of coal and pick from the best mines in a district. As the ice business draws to a close, and on account of warm and cool days we wish to keep our ice delivery good and therefore we will sell coal at about cost for a while so that we can keep our men busy. Remember our prices are never any higher for our high grades of coal than others charge for any kind of coal. We load our wagons with a fork which insures coal free from slack, we can use the slack in our boilers, and get some use of it, but for stoves it's worthless, so why not buy the best while it cost you no more and may cost you less. Our leader this year will be the same as we have handled for three years which is No. 6 Dewar. We will also have the highest grade of McAlester in stock. We run our own tests on coal, we don't take the other fellows word for it. All coal that comes to our boiler room is tested for heat units, we give our customers the benefit of this as well as the benefit of our long experience as coal users, we claim to know coal when we see it, in fact we are experts in this line, so please see us before placing your orders and avoid any chance in a disappointment in your winter coal. ## Battle of 50 Years Ago.

Sharpsburg, Md., Sept. 17.—Numerous flags and wreaths were placed this morning about the monuments and markers that dot the field where thousands of soldiers of the blue and the gray fought and fell fifty years ago today in the battle of Antietam. The battle was one of the most terrible of the Civil war. The Union forces were in command of Gen. McClellan and the Confederates were led by Gen. Lee, who had been joined the previous day by "Stonewall" Jackson. About 100,000 men were engaged, and the conflict raged with great fury from daylight until dark. The Federals were repeatedly repulsed, but at night both armies held the same positions as in the morning. In the eleven hours' fighting about 16,000 of the Northern army and 20,000 of the Confederate army fell, in addition to many thousands who died after the battle.

SCHOOL TAX MATTER

FINALLY ADJUSTED

After a thorough discussion, the excise board decided Monday that everything pertaining to the recent school tax election was legal and ordered levied an additional tax of one mill for the building fund of the Ada schools, the sum so derived to be used in connecting the north and east side buildings with the sewers, and other improvements made that are found necessary. Some controversy arose in the board at first owing to different views taken of the school law, but the final decision was as unanimous.

Why Not the Cave of Adullam.

The agitator, whether he be Socialist or Bull Moose, or a member of the old Populist party, has a text in Holy Writ, which affords him a precedent for his belief in any platform that appeals to the discontented. The text is found in Samuel, who was a veracious chronicler and not a muck-raker even though the muck-rakers of today appeal to the very forces which Samuel described.

The veracious chronicler describes David in the Cave of Adullam "and every one that was in distress, and every one that was in debt, and every one that was discontented, gathered themselves unto him."

Was not the Bull Moose gathering misnamed when it was called the battle of Armageddon? Was it not the Cave of Adullam?—Montgomery Advertiser.

A REQUIEM.

Breathes there a man with a soul so dead,

Who never to himself hath said:
"My trade of late is getting bad,
I'll try another 8-inch ad."
If such there be, go mark him well,
For him no bank account shall swell;
No angels watch the golden stair
To welcome home the millionaire.
The man who never asks for trade,
By local line or ad displayed,
Cares more for rest than worldly gain
And patronage gives him pain.
Tread lightly, friends; let no rude sound

Disturb his solitude profound,
Here let him live in calm repose,
Unsought except by men he owes,
And when he dies, go plant him deep,
That naught may break his dreamless sleep;

Where no rude clamor may dispel
The quiet that he loved so well.
And that the world may know its loss,
Place on his grave a wreath of moss,
And on a stone above, "Here lies
A man who would not advertise."
—Lexington Leader.

WORKED NEW VACATION IDEA

Western Woman "Hired Out" to Her Husband, and Is Enthusiastic Over the Result.

The following letter was written by a woman who lives on a farm in Wyoming:

"To begin with, then, I'm a rancher's wife, and was a farmer's daughter, so I know what it means to get up early and work till late. I've read a great deal about vacations, but not much about vacations for the woman on the ranch.

"Most women who live on a ranch know something about horses, and can harness and drive a team. Now every one knows that to people who have always worked with their hands idleness is not rest, and that recreation comes quicker and surer from a change of work; so I 'hired out' to my husband.

"We have 75 acres of alfalfa, and here in the west men are scarce and wages are high, so I hired a girl to do the housework and take care of the children, while I donned a pair of overalls, a jumper, a broad-brimmed hat and a pair of stout gloves, and went forth to take my vacation.

"The first day I mowed, and the first night I kicked levers and drove horses all night. I wasn't so enthusiastic the second morning, but I mowed some more, and raked some, and that night I slept; and I slept every night that followed during the harvest, for I 'stayed with it' till the hay was in the stack, doing team work altogether, and when we were through my husband said I was 'the best man on the job.'

"I was decidedly a better woman, for I had gained five pounds of flesh, stronger nerves, harder muscles, and a coat of tan that hasn't all worn off yet.

"I told the girl that I was not to be consulted about anything, so I shifted the whole responsibility of the household and did just as the men did; washed, ate my meals, and then rested till time to start to work again.

"My girl cost me four dollars per week and I made $12, which left me a clear gain of eight dollars per week in cash, besides the other good things. I felt so rested when I took up the reins of the household again that what had before been a task was now a pleasure. Really, it did seem good to cook a meal once more, and I had not thought it possible."—Woman's Home Companion.

Had Given Him Wrong Banner.

Charles R. Holden told the following story at a banquet given to some lawyers and their wives at Chicago:

"A prominent educator of a co-educational institution recently told with evident appreciation the following experience of a prominent professor of a celebrated university in New York city:

"The professor is blessed with a particularly energetic and progressive wife, who is a leader in the suffragette movement. When the recent demonstrative procession was organized in New York she insisted upon the professor adding his influence to the movement by participating in the procession. He yielded and set out. The wife's prominence in the movement gave her a place in the reviewing stand and she was mortally chagrined to see the professor, shame faced, straggling along, carrying his banner in such a drooping and careless way that she could not even see what was upon it.

"At the first opportunity her reproaches fell fierce and fast on the professor, who finally managed to break in with, 'But, my dear, my dear, you really must not blame me; I had an awful time. What do you think that banner was? Imagine! It was a most horrible cartoon of a whiskey-soaked and bedraggled bum with the motto, "This man can vote, why can't I?"'

The Weak Spot.

All the day's provisions except the butter were ordered by telephone. The housekeeper came to the store to pick that out herself.

"That is a peculiarity of many women," said the grocer. "No matter how long they have been trading with a grocer or a butcher, no matter how reliable they may know him to be, they make a hobby of one certain commodity on which they distrust his judgment. Everything else may be ordered by telephone or through the clerks, but they insist upon coming to the store and picking out that particular article. Some women want to sort out the eggs, others must taste and smell the butter, or maybe it is the tea or the coffee or the cheese they are suspicious about. It's a queer notion. If they can trust us in other things it stands to reason that we'd give a square deal all the way through, but these doubting Thomases will take no chances."

Proper Credit Given to India.

The art of cementation, by which iron is carburized and converted into steel on heating in charcoal powder, has been investigated by Sir Robert Hadfield in an ancient chisel of Caylon, 1,500 years old or more, and he confirms the claim of India to the discovery that has done more than any other to advance civilization.

The most complete collection of iron and steel specimens from 1,200 to 1,800 years old is in the museum at Colombo.

The famous pillar of Delphi is a most notable ancient specimen of iron. It is a mass of wrought iron welded into a solid shaft 23 feet 8 inches long and weighing about six tons—a creditable piece of work of at least sixteen centuries ago.

GET RID OF RHEUMATISM

Rubbing with liniments, blistering the affected parts, the application of plasters, and other means of external treatment, are usually helpful in relieving the pains and aches of Rheumatism. But such treatment does not get rid of the disease, because it does not reach its source. Rheumatism comes from an excess of uric acid in the blood. This acid acts as an irritant to the nerves, muscles and joints, and produces the inflammation and swelling, and sharp cutting pains characteristic of the trouble.

When the blood is overburdened with uric acid it grows thinner and poorer in nourishing qualities. Then Rheumatism becomes chronic and not only a painful but a dangerous disease. You can get rid of Rheumatism by purifying the blood with S. S. S. This vegetable remedy goes into the circulation, neutralizes and removes the uric acid, and by building up the thin, sour blood, safely and surely cures the disease. S. S. S. makes rich, nourishing blood, which quiets excited nerves, eases the painful muscles and joints and filters out every particle of irritating uric acid from the system. ## FAMILY OF TWENTY SUPPORTING WILSON

New York, Sept. 18.—Robert A. Mills, of Riverside, Calif., wants it known that he is not a political boss, even though the 19 members of his family are going to vote as he will vote in November.

Mr. Mills first became interested in politics when Polk was a candidate for president and he cast his first vote for Pierce. He voted for Abraham Lincoln and has never failed to vote at a presidential election since.

Mr. Mills has advised Democratic headquarters that he proposes voting for Wilson and Marshall, and says that his wife, three daughters two daughters-in-law, seven sons, four sons-in-law and two grandsons, or a total of 20 votes, will vote the straight Democratic ticket this year.
